THE DAILY INDEPENDENT: HELENA, TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 11, 1889.

Italian prelates, it would be well, when the present pope dies if his successor should be chosen from some quarter not affected by these petty animosities. Another reason advanced is that the choice of a prelate not connected with Italy might tend to heal the breach between the civil government and the papacy. To this end the name of Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore has been mentioned, of course without his knowledge or consent. Without doubt the cardinal would make a good pope. He is liberal in his views, a scholarly man, and a churchman of large experience in executive affairs. The college of cardinals might, when the time shall have come, go further and fare a great deal more than by elevating the American prelate to the chair of St. Peter.

The school census of Sacramento, Cal., shows a falling off of fifteen hundred as compared with the preceding enumeration. The papers of that city endeavor to ascribe the reduction in numbers to inaccuracy on the part of the census-takers, but the truth probably is that the boom, which California enjoyed a few years ago is having its reaction. That country is most prosperous which has a natural and steady growth rather than the spasmodic and feverish boom that are worked up by real estate speculators, and such a growth Montana is enjoying at the present time.

Among the sufferers by the great fire on the 6th inst. at Seattle is Addison Smith, well known to Montanians through a residence in this territory exceeding twenty years in duration, and which terminated about a year ago when he removed to Seattle and engaged in the wholesale grocery business. His loss will reach the sum of $25,000. Mr. Smith was one of the founders of the city of Seattle, and was for a long time resident of Deer Lodge. A host of friends will regret to hear of his misfortune.

It is coming to be generally understood in the east that the republicans are not to have a walk-over in Washington at the coming state election, where, according to all reports, there is an excellent chance for a democratic victory, which would give the democrats as many new members in the United States senate as the republicans, who are morally certain to carry both the Dakotas.

The fact that the Louisiana State Lottery association has offered to assume the debt of Louisiana, amounting to $12,000,000, in consideration of an extension of its charter for fifty years, is a strong indication of what profits the managers expect to reap from their enterprise. There are few gambling devices that exceed a well-managed lottery for making money for its operators.

The Inter Montanians of the INDEPENDENT, "latent depravity." On the other hand, the depravity of the Inter Montanians is irrefragable and active to a degree.

MISSOURI. A new daily, the Morning Missourian, published by Harrison Spaulding.

A new telephone line between Dillon and Hannock has been established and is working. The best working line in the territory.

Stevenson's Tribune: Prairie fires are razing on the foothills among the timber this week and some of them have been very destructive.

Glendive Independent: Judge McLean finished his tour of inspection on Wednesday last, stopping at the city of Glendive. He was accompanied by a large party of his friends and family.

With its last issue the Glendive Independent, which has been published for several years, has ceased to appear. It was a well-known paper and was read by many.

Glendive Independent: William Shad, well known in this territory, has been elected to the office of justice of the peace for the year 1889.

Noah Armstrong has sent to T. P. O'Connell, of Dillon, a large quantity of goods, which he has ordered to be shipped to Chicago. Mr. Armstrong is a well-known merchant and is doing a large business.

Glendive Independent: Pierre Wibaux's round-up reached town last evening. The cattle crop is pasturing in the estimate of 10,000 and the best round-up promises ever beyond his expectations.

Boulder Sentinel: There is said to be much excitement in the city of Boulder, Colo., on account of the election of a new mayor. The election is expected to be very close.

Miss Delano, a clerk in the pension office when Mr. Cleveland was president, was discharged because she spoke disrespectfully of the chief magistrate of the nation, whom she called a pig and other pet appellations. Under Harrison and Tanager Miss Delano has been reinstated, showing that the gentlemen have seen regard for the dignity of the presidential office that is compatible with the positions they occupy by the grace of a defective electoral law, which permits a man who receives 98,000 votes less than his rival for the office to occupy the presidency. Whatever may be the personal esteem in which Messrs. Tanager and Harrison hold Mr. Cleveland, they should respect the office he occupied when a four-termed woman, holding a position under the government of which she was the chief, assailed the office by vilifying its occupant.

The New York World's Washington correspondent quotes a prominent republican of that city as saying that the irrepressible conflict between Harrison and Blaine is still waging, and that the former is in no pleasant frame of mind over the presence of a man who has been a man whose prominence before the national convention was all that made his own nomination possible. Another thing that is said to aggravate the president is the fact that the continental trade in New York recently the popular demonstration in honor of ex-President Cleveland was so much more marked than in his own case cause general remark. There is probably much truth in the statement that "Mr. Harrison is about the hardest man to magnetize that could be found. The arts that capture most men only make him more suspicious and put him on his guard. He is a combination of selfishness and conceit. He doesn't know isn't really worth trying to convert. He is also very proud and exceedingly narrow in his range of vision. When he makes up his mind or gets set on an idea it is next to impossible to induce him to change. He seems to have a mania for compromise. The next thing he suggests when the names of two men are presented to him for the same office is: 'Can't you agree upon some outside man?'

Have You Heard of It. Have you heard what Mr. G. L. West, of Cambridge City, Ind., says of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy? Don't lose it. "During last summer I was troubled very much with severe pains in the stomach and bowels, and was induced by a friend to try this remedy. I took one dose, per directions, and it gave me almost instant relief. I cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted." Twenty-five and fifty cent bottles for sale by H. M. Patches & Co.

When the liver is indolent, as it is in many cases, it is necessary to use a cathartic to induce its action. Chamberlain's Stomach and Bowel Remedy is a safe and reliable cathartic, and is recommended by the most prominent physicians. It is a pleasant and effective remedy for all cases of indigestion, constipation, and other liver troubles.
